EXHIBIT D
Committer Member Process

Individuals who give frequent and valuable contributions to a Zope Platform development project, or component of a project (in the case of large projects), can have their status promoted to that of a "Committer" for that project or component respectively, in accordance with the project’s corresponding Charter. A Committer has write access to the source code repository for the associated project (or component), and gains rights allowing them to affect the future of the project (or component). In order for an individual to become a Committer, another Committer for the project (or component) must nominate that individual. Once an individual is nominated, the existing Committers for the project (or component) will vote using the process and rules established in the project’s corresponding Charter. When a new project is started, the corresponding PMC will nominate an initial set of Committers for approval by the Chairman (or his delegates). Becoming a Committer is a privilege that is earned by contributing and showing discipline and good judgment. It is a responsibility that should be neither given nor taken lightly.

A Committer who is not already employed by a Member company must sign the Zope Foundation Membership Agreement in order to attain the rights and obligations of a Committer Member.
